- Imagination and Play

The city has a new protector, and he's NEIGH KID! Join in and read one of the most incredible adventures ever told about a boy who goes through an astonishing transformation to become the superhero we all need!

In Neigh Kid's debut adventure, a young, unassuming boy dons his horse mask and cape (it's actually a towel) and sets off into the night to keep the city safe. His mission? To rescue his beloved cat, who has escaped into the moonlit streets.

The vibrant illustrations add a touch of 'cheeky' humour while remaining perfectly tasteful. With its playful storyline and endearing characters, this book will become a storytime favourite read for children and caregivers alike as it also celebrates bravery, imagination, and the bond between a boy and his pet.

What do you do when there's calamity afoot? GET NEIGH KID!

MSRP: $21.99 CAD / $18.99 US

Binding: Hardcover

Pub Date: July 15, 2024

Book Size: 8.5 x 8.5

Pages: 32

Genre: Informational Fiction

Age Group: 4-7

Themes:

- Respecting Nature
- Arts and Crafts
- Environmental Stewardship

Summary

Lilly and Leo think it's super to catch fireflies and salamanders – and even more exciting as they plan to bring their glowing nature finds to show and tell the next day.

That is, until Grandma's words of wisdom, guiding the children to observe the free-flying luna moth, teaches them respect for the freedom and light of the beautiful natural life surrounding them.

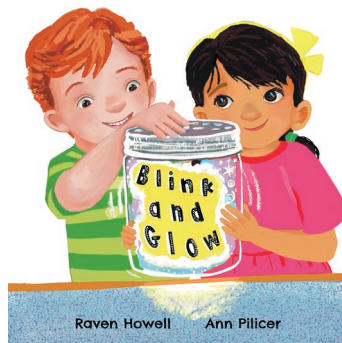

Blink and Glow is a unique story with a gentle, thought-provoking message about considerations towards freedom and respect for nature.

Reader's Favorite 5-Star Review:

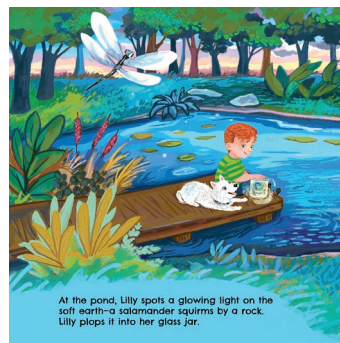

"Blink and Glow is a fun-filled picture book with a gentle message about environment and wildlife conservation. In a few pages, author Raven Howell has built an immensely imaginative world filled with a vibrant ecosystem, and you can't help but immerse yourself in this wondrous setting."

At the pond, Lilly spots a glowing light on the soft earth—a salamander squirms by a rock. Lilly plops it into her glass jar.

"See the luna moth!" she asks, pointing towards the garden. "It has the same glow and reflective light as both a firefly and a salamander."

Isaac and the Boulder

Written by Jo-Ann Scranton

Illustrated by Mai Tran

Summary

A new-age story of grit and perseverance, with a wild twist ending.

One day, Isaac was walking to the beach, but a boulder was blocking his way! Well-intentioned, Isaac tries to set things right and help the boulder return home... if he can!

ISAAC AND THE BOULDER is a warm-hearted, vibrantly illustrated children's picture book highlighting the importance of determination and never giving up. This book is more than a story; it's an invitation to embrace challenges and celebrate the journey, whether big or small.

5-Star Amazon Review:

"My kids don't often sit still for stories(2 & 4) but they were both sucked into Isaac from start to finish. They were on the edge of their seats waiting to see if Isaac would conquer the boulder in his path, then the end broke the tension and they both laughed and repeated what happened. I love when something is silly and it translates for the kids without explanation."

A Morning With Blueburry

Written by Jon Seymour
Illustrated by Jon Seymour

Summary

ISBN: 978-1-7382193-3-9

MSRP (CAD): $12.99

Binding: Paperback

Pub Date: Nov 2023

Book Size: 8.5 x 8.5

Pages: 44

Genre: Fiction

Age Group: 4-7

Themes:

- Food
- Tenacity
- Monochrome Illustrations
- Adventures

This monochrome children's story begins as a muffin named Blueburry takes a stroll on the kitchen counter looking for a tasty treat for breakfast. A bowl of icing would be perfect, but it's on a table that's some "one thousand muffin-meters away." Blueburry's thwarted efforts to reach the table include an unfortunate balloon incident, a rope made of soggy spaghetti, and a too-pow-erful slingshot crafted from kitchen tools. Encouraged by his kitchen counter friends—a bowl of fruit, a loaf of bread, and a juice box—Blueburry "hike[s] up his muffin liner," keeps trying, and turns failure into unexpected success.

Kirkus Recommended Reviews:

"Young children will undoubtedly get a kick out of how thoroughly Blueburry appreciates the finale to his dilemma. Still, readers will find that a clear message of peer support and self-confidence comes through." —Kirkus Reviews

Kirkus Verdict: "GET IT"

Illustrations

He walked past a bowl of fruit.

"HI!"

Blueburry let go of the slingshot and launched himself through the air!
